Preserving the Past for the Benefit of the Future

Mattapoisett Historical Society Annual Meeting

By Marilou Newell

Seth Mendell learned early on about the importance of “preserving the past for the benefit of the future” when his father, Charles, and other forward-thinking residents began collecting and saving bits of Mattapoisett’s history. That was before the establishment of the Mattapoisett Historical Society, now in its 55th year of service to the community.

Above & On the Cover: The Mattapoisett Historical Society held its 55th Annual Meeting on Sunday afternoon at the Museum and Carriage House, honoring outgoing President and Town Historian Seth Mendell in a ceremony that included the announcement of an endowment fund named for him. New President Jennifer McIntire presented Mendell with an award. Photos by Felix Perez and Marilou Newell.

On September 29, the Society held its 55th annual meeting during which Seth Mendell gave his final president’s report. The Mendells are retiring to Florida, but will be returning in the summer months staying in connection to family, friends, and the Society. Mendell gave a retrospective of the Society and his time as a member beginning in 1991. He has been the president since 1996. During his long tenure he noted the following achievements:

The Christian Church trustees coordinated the use of the church with the Society’s Board of Directors to store and display historic pieces from not only Mattapoisett but the surrounding area. Then, in 1968, the carriage house was built by the Historical Society and contains many of the larger exhibits that the society has acquired over the years. Today the two buildings stand, “as a jewel on Church Street” Mendell told the assembled.

He recalled the charming story of working with professional museum conservators who volunteered their time to help the Society organize and prioritize the collections in the early 1990s. At that time, duplicate items were sold or donated to other museums. When Mendell shared with his elderly mother the work that was taking place, she told him about a cradle that her family had donated and from which 18 members of Mendells family including his great, great-great-grandfather had been rocked. She made it crystal clear that that cradle stay in Mattapoisett. The cradle had nearly slipped through the Society’s hands much to Mendell’s horror, but can be found in the mezzanine of the church today.

As he continued to recount the numerous improvements the Society has been able to complete, including priceless pieces of history and the buildings that house them, none stands more "priceless" than the careful fiduciary oversight he proudly spoke of. Mendell gave detailed information on the financial health then and now of the Society, the importance of ongoing fundraising efforts and now, the establishment of an endowment to pay for a full-time curator. The Society's board decided to name the endowment that will ensure professional management of the collections and outreach programs into the future the Mendell Endowment for the Curator. As noted in the annual meeting program: "The fund will be established to honor both Charles and Seth Mendell in appreciation for their work at the Mattapoisett Historical Society and their dedication to preserving Mattapoisett history. The Board of the Historical Society will initiate a 5-year Capital Campaign to fund the endowment. The endowment will be used to fund the work of the Curator in order to sustain and grow the Society for future generations."

But Mendell's work is not done. He said that since he has given no less than 20 lectures on local history over the years, he will be writing a book using those lectures as resource material. That publication will cover everything from shipbuilding, to the canal's impact on the South Coast. Another writing project is on the subject of salt works history in the area, one of the major industries

Jennifer McIntire, the newly elected president of the Society, presented Mendell with a plaque to commemorate his many years of service. The meeting was then adjourned and everyone was invited to enjoy refreshments and to thank Seth Mendell personally for his dedication and in setting the course of the Society into charted waters for continued success.

Marion Man Checks Item Off of 'Bucket List'

By Joan Hartnett-Barry

Peter Hunsdorfer wanted to sell his 2004 BMW RT 1150 Touring motorcycle. After thinking about it, he decided that it would sell more quickly on the west coast due to the motorcycle culture of the area. That thought, along with the idea of visiting his son and daughter-in-law in Washington state evolved into taking a trip he'd always dreamed about; riding across the United States on a motorcycle.

"It's something I'd always wanted to do, and I had the time off from work," Hunsdorfer said. "My wife, Sally, could fly out and meet me, and we could visit Todd and Cathy. It just evolved into an exciting plan." He completed the trip in 10 days in July.

Hunsdorfer took the northern route making his way to New York state, through Ohio, Pennsylvania, into Illinois, over to Wisconsin, up to Minnesota across South Dakota to Wyoming, onto Montana, through Idaho and into Washington. He camped the entire time at state parks, local campgrounds, and RV Campgrounds.

"With a motorcycle, you can almost always find a place at a campground because you don't take up much space," explained Hunsdorfer. The bike, along with three storage bags with supplies and clothing, weighed 600 pounds. He also used the passenger seat for storage.

"It's a big country and a big world and you have to put yourself out there and take risks," said Hunsdorfer, who is currently looking for a smaller motorcycle. According to Hunsdorfer, the bike he rode to Washington is too big for our local area and was meant for lots of long-distance touring. "I want to go with something smaller now," he said.

"I work with older people and I see that sometimes there are regrets, so do what you want to do while you can," he said. Hunsdorfer was a paramedic for the town of Marion for more than 10 years and is now a licensed practical nurse employed at a local sub acute care nursing facility.

rain on the day he departed. He stopped along the way to see Mount Rushmore, Yellowstone National Park, the Badlands, and explored local towns. He rode from 300 to 500 miles each day. "I got approximately 50 miles to the gallon and had a six gallon tank," he said.

Prior to leaving, Hunsdorfer bought a National Parks Pass, which costs $10 for those 62 years and older. He used it multiple times, once carefully avoiding buffalo in the road in Yellowstone. "I'd use Google maps on my smart phone to plan the next day and locate a campground. There are many more campsites after you pass Chicago, they seem to have a more outdoorsy attitude and camping and being outside is more of a lifestyle out there than it is here in New England."

In time, he and his wife plan to sell their home and travel. "There is so much to see, do, and experience, and it would be fun to go into an area and see more of the national parks and explore the country," he said. For now, he is back at work, and he and Sally are reviewing their bucket lists for future adventures.

"Anecdotally, we know that it will save a lot of time, save a lot of money, and save a lot of effort," Marean said. "But I would have to say more than that to secure the grant. I would have to spell out how what we propose to do would enhance services and reduce costs."

Marean explained that her inquiries thus far have yielded little in the way of concrete decisions, as purchasing GIS software, licenses, and resources is not a prepackaged proposition.

"When I ask what is available to us, it's a matter of, well, what do you want?" Marean said. "When I ask what a grant can afford us, it becomes a matter of, well, what do you need?" Marean said that services exist enabling the town's analysis of habitats, bodies of water, roadways, and more, but that Marion could use a potential grant to "enhance those layers of information that are already available to us in maps to get custom programming based on what the town wants."

Marean added that Rochester is "very interested in collaborating" with Marion on GIS acquisition and use, while she has heard that "Mattapoisett is looking for a more complex system." She said that training and licenses alone could cost upward of $25,000.

The application deadline for the GIS grant is November 20. Marean said that she is seeking a "list of the people I should talk to" in terms of focusing Marion's needs to inform her grant proposal. Marean said that Building Commissioner Scott Shippey has been "very vocal about how a GIS system would greatly enhance his ability to do his job."

The Selectmen advised Marean to speak with the Conservation Commission, the Planning Board, the Police and Fire departments, and, most urgently, John Rockwell, who is fluent in GIS software and an expert on Marion land use issues. Town Administrator Paul Dawson said he would invite Rockwell to the Board's next meeting to discuss the grant.

Later in the meeting, during his report, Dawson updated the Selectmen on the town's plans to bid out private ambulance services for the town, "strictly to get pricing and be prepared" pending a fall Town Meeting vote on Marion's EMS budget. He also noted that the town has begun interviewing candidates for its new Facilities Manager position. Meanwhile, Dawson said that public drinking water has re-tested "perfect" after the recent discovery of "slightly elevated" counts of coliform bacteria. He closed by telling the Selectmen that Marion has yet to receive approval of a $1 million MassWorks grant crucial to its Village Area Capital Improvement Project, but that indications are positive.

"We continue to be frustrated with the lack of a response," Dawson said. "We will continue to push [for a response], as we need to get this resolved so we can get the contracts signed."

Elsewhere on the agenda, the Selectmen approved:

A sewer connection application at 170 Wareham Street;

One-day wine and malt licenses for a Buzzards Bay Habitat for Humanity event at the Music Hall on December 5 and a Gleason Family YMCA Wine Tasting fundraiser at the Music Hall on October 18; and

One-day all-alcohol licenses for a VFW #2425 event on October 5 and a wedding reception at the Marion Social Club on October 27.

The Selectmen also commended outgoing public servants Nicholas Grace (Marion Affordable Housing Trust) and John Crosby (Carver-Marion-Wareham Regional Refuse Disposal District) for their years of invaluable work on behalf of the residents of Marion.

Officials Reject Kittansett Request

Marion Conservation Commission

By Shawn Badgley

The Marion Conservation Commission on Wednesday decided to tell the Kittansett Club to clean up its current mess before making more of one.

Members drafted a letter informing the club that its request for a three-year Extension Permit to continue to stockpile materials near the coastal bank by the driving range had been denied, because "there's more being done there than was originally approved," said Joel Hartley after a recent site visit by the Conservation Commission.

Hartley said the letter could include a directive to apply for a Notice of Intent, in effect resetting the process

Elsewhere on the agenda, the Conservation Commission gave the green light to Daniel and Heather Goodwin of 80 Water St. to raze the existing garage, construct an attached garage with a mudroom and deck, and relocate and lengthen the driveway.

Members also voted to grant a Full Certificate of Compliance to Dorothy Brown of 7 Shawondasse Rd. for installing a drainage system discharging into drywells.

Finally, the Conservation Commission approved a resolution supporting John Root in his effort to secure a grant for a local presentation on edible gardening.

A Closer Look at Rochester's Bylaw Amendments

By Nick Walecka

Recently, the Rochester Planning Board voted favorably in support of six bylaw amendments that will be voted on at Town Meeting on November 25.

Amendment 1: Would restructure a bylaw that has regulatory language that allows for a Medical Marijuana Treatment Center to set up shop in town (see below).

Amendment 2: Would add a table to the town's bylaws that will help applicants and town administrators to delineate between different types of structures more easily.

Amendment 3: Would change language in the town's bylaws regarding the regulations surrounding farm stands and roadside stands within the town.

The definition for a "Roadside Stand" now reads as "an accessory structure for the sale of articles grown or produced in the Town of Rochester," and the definition for a "Farm Stand" added language that states it's greater than 80 square feet in floor area.

According to the Board, there was some confusion as to the regulation of farm stands. The current law states that a stand cannot sell more than 25 percent of its sales from out-of-state products. The changes specifically take the word "volume" out of the bylaw, and would use a dollar-based percentage as the only way to measure the percentage of sales. Basically, it would just

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

Indoor Cats Need Shots

I have a 4 year old cat that stays indoors. Do I really need to get her shots?

In a word, YES. It is really important for your cat to stay current on her rabies shots at the very least. Stuff happens. She could escape outdoors and get attacked or a rabid raccoon or skunk could get into the house. It may sound far fetched but we have to deal with this scenario a few times a year where an unvaccinated animal gets bitten by an unknown assailant.

Taking your pet to the vet for an annual examination is also really important. If a pet year is like 7 people years it would be like you seeing your physician every 7 years. It is especially important if your cat is getting on in years.

simplify the way they keep track of how much they sell by using money instead of volume sold.

If someone were to sell more than a 25 percent worth of their revenue from out-of-state products, they would no longer qualify as a farm stand.

"The goal is to eliminate things that would be ambiguous [based on the definition]," said Ben Bailey of the Board.

Planning Chairman Arnold Johnson said that he hoped the change would help promote local agriculture within the town.

Amendment 4: Would clean up language involved in section of bylaws regarding Site Plan Review Applications and Site Plan Review Fees. Also allows Rochester the ability to charge applicants for administrative staff time.

Amendment 5: Would clean up language involving the filing of Site Plan Approval Application. Also adds section regarding incomplete applications to protect against potential litigation involving denied applicants.

Amendment 6: Fixes language mistakenly left out of prior year's flood plain map. "This particular article will correct that problem," said Laurell Farinon, the town's Conservation Agent. "This language was erroneously deleted. It's exactly the same as it was [initially]."

While some Massachusetts cities and towns have chosen to put the medical marijuana issue on the back burner, it seems that Rochester is planning for the inevitable future of its presence within the state.

"In this state, we cannot, as a town, ban them," Johnson said. "We can take a proactive stance as to where they can be located and set some reasonable parameters on them."

The Board initially proposed a moratorium on potential marijuana-related businesses in town when the vote to legalize it medicinally went through last year, but as more legislation came out from the state, the Board decided to conform to their recommendations.

Johnson said the Planning Board and the town of Rochester would borrow literature from zoning bylaws for the adult entertainment district in town, which would limit them to industrially zoned locations, of which there are few in Rochester.

"This is where our board feels it would have the least amount of impact within the town," Johnson said. "There is land out there that's undeveloped. It's kind of on the outskirts of town, so you're not bringing it into the town. In that particular area, if the bylaw gets adopted at town meeting, the applicant would have a use by right there."

Johnson added that this is not something the group is too familiar with and that they'll continue to take the process step by step as to getting the bylaws implemented correctly.

Coinciding with the news that Rochester would be going forward with the bylaw amendments was news that C.A.L.M. (Center for Alternative Life Medicine) of New Bedford was looking into Rochester as a potential location for a "retail center," according to Jesse Pitts, a representative for C.A.L.M.

"Your town is being targeted – New Bedford is

Subcommittee Nears Solar Stance

Marion Planning Board

By Shawn Badgley

The Marion Planning Board's Solar Bylaw Subcommittee met on Wednesday afternoon in an effort to finalize the body's official opinion on the Solar Bylaw to be presented at fall Town Meeting on October 28. But before that, the board will consider the subcommittee's findings at its next scheduled meeting on October 7.

comprise the subcommittee, and were joined by Energy Management Committee member Jennifer Francis in an unofficial capacity.

The Solar Bylaw passed in part during annual Town Meeting in May, when voters approved a municipal solar overlay district allowing for a community solar garden at the defunct town landfill. The portion of the bylaw regulating residential installations, meanwhile, narrowly failed by a handful of votes, as the Planning Board registered its opposition to it on the floor.

However, in the months since, the Planning Board and the EMC have reached a compromise when it comes to the special permit process for residential installations, and the groups have already decided that they will jointly recommend that segment of the revised bylaw at fall Town Meeting.

Currently, the last remaining hurdle is how the Planning Board will handle the Solar Bylaw's language regarding the regulation of solar farms in residential areas. A vast majority – upward of 97 percent – of Marion is zoned residential. Currently, the bylaw allows solar farms provided conditions are met. But the Planning Board is split on this portion of the bylaw: Some members oppose solar farms in residential areas altogether; others are lukewarm, preferring an overlay system to be determined; and still others are in favor.

In turn, the subcommittee is attempting to hammer out a resolution on solar farms in residential areas. The Planning Board is working with three paths: the unlikeliest is a nuclear option to reject the Solar Bylaw in toto; another is to recommend the bylaw as is; and the third is to advise Town Meeting voters to amend the bylaw on the floor by removing the solar farms provision and replacing it with an overlay system at annual Town Meeting in the spring.

On Wednesday, Kokkins and Ferrari brought that debate into better focus by dividing up responsibilities: Kokkins will argue to the Planning Board that they should recommend amendment and removal at Town Meeting, while Ferrari will argue for recommendation of passage.

"Personally, many people have told me that they are quite uncomfortable with having commercial operations of any kind in residential areas," said Kokkins, previewing his argument. "The concept of an overlay is to provide some flexibility by not zoning on an inch by inch basis. This still shows the state that the town is in favor of progress."

Ferrari was mum on the case he would make to his Planning Board colleagues, saying that the Solar Bylaw conundrum "wakes him up at 3 in the morning all of the time," but Francis was there to file an amicus brief, as it were.

"Practically speaking, we're talking about maybe a handful of applications for solar farms in residential areas," Francis said. "You can evaluate these thing when they're applied for. It seems like a way more efficient use of your time.

"An overlay – whenever the town will actually come up with one – is going to exclude people who want and would otherwise be able to," added Francis, lamenting the possibility of an overly onerous process.

The Planning Board's Solar Bylaw Subcommittee is scheduled to next meet on September 30 at 7:00 pm. At that point, Ferrari and Kokkins will crystallize their arguments for the Planning Board, which will presumably decide on a course of action in time for the October 28 Town Meeting.

Solar Subcommittee Meets Once More

Marion Planning Board

By Shawn Badgley

Working off of a document prepared by member Rico Ferrari synopsizing its findings so far, the Planning Board's Solar Bylaw Subcommittee met again on Monday night to come up with a recommendation in time for fall Town Meeting.

On this occasion, Ferrari and Steven Kokkins were joined by Planning Board member Ted North, a Solar Bylaw opponent, while the Energy Management Committee's Jennifer Francis attended, as well.

Ferrari said that he viewed his work – which lays out broad courses of action on the Solar Bylaw ranging from full approval to full rejection, sort of a Choose Your Own Public Policy Adventure – as a potential recommendation in and of itself.

"When we voted 4-3 to let the town decide, that was an indication to me that we're not prepared to issue a recommendation on this," said Ferrari, referring to a recent full Planning Board meeting. "At this point, every person at Town Meeting needs to make up their own mind about what they want to do without our influence."

Kokkins acknowledged Ferrari's point, but argued that the voters expected a recommendation.

"I don't think that presenting just paths and the consequences of those paths wouldn't really be well received by the public," Kokkins said. "They are looking for, well, I can't say guidance --"

"It is guidance," North interjected.

By night's end, it was more evident than ever that the Subcommittee's – and, in turn, the Planning Board's – recommendation will be for voters to amend the Solar Bylaw on the floor of fall Town Meeting and eliminate the Solar Farm portion of the policy. This recommendation could include a provision to develop an overlay district for commercial solar farms in time for consideration at the annual Town Meeting in the spring.

Kokkins and North agreed that the overlay districts would provide "zoning certainty," but Ferrari and Francis asserted that the language in the Solar Bylaw provides as much currently, and that complicating the process any further could alienate interested parties and place an undue burden on town government.

"I keep going back to that," Ferrari said, "to say 'why do we need it?'"

"Why bother with this work to begin with?"

Kokkins replied. "Because it's meant to apply now and in the future. Property lines can change; ownership can change. Whatever the situation is today may not be the situation in the future."

"What's next year's favorite commercial project, and the year after that? That's the purpose of zoning," North concurred. "People have to understand that there's no inherent right to do with your property whatever you want."

The Planning Board is next scheduled to meet on Monday, October 7.

Officials Review Final Baywatch Plans

Marion Zoning Board of Appeals

By Shawn Badgley

Betsy Dunn might have captured what her fellow Zoning Board of Appeals members were thinking on Thursday night as they pored over final plans for Baywatch Realty Trust's 40B project off of Front Street.

"I feel bad about it," said Dunn, referring to the result of the long process – often adversarial and fraught with the looming threat of litigation – between the town of Marion and Baywatch. "But I gave it my all."

"For more than a decade," added ZBA Chairman Eric Pierce.

The ZBA reviewed landscape, parking, lighting, and other specs provided by Baywatch.

"Does anybody see anything grossly different than what we were told or what we asked them for?" asked Pierce. "I think they've done what they said they would do."

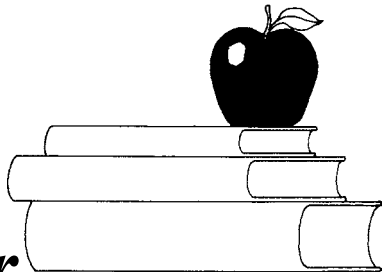

The standout concern expressed by members is the location of the school bus stop for children living in the development.

Elsewhere on the agenda, Marion resident Tad Wollenhaupt informed the board of his intent to purchase the former Jenney's Garage land on Point Road, which he plans to continue as a business in its pre-existing nonconforming capacity. Wollenhaupt is a general contractor who said he will "use the buildings as they stand" for storage and a light workshop between the hours of 8:00 am and 5:00 pm. He also said that he might potentially build a breezeway between structures.

The property is just under an acre. Wollenhaupt said that the drywall, heating system, and doors have been replaced recently, and the site improvements he would take on would be limited to painting, windows, and repaving. He told the ZBA that he and his three employees would work at the facility, with little impact on traffic.

While Wollenhaupt's presentation was informal – he is also considering properties in Fairhaven and Dartmouth, but said he prefers Marion – the board responded favorably to his pitch.

Mattapoisett Open Space Committee

By Marilou Newell

"The wetlands are our most important open space!" Brad Hathaway made this statement during the monthly meeting of Mattapoisett's Open Space Committee. The focus of the meeting was ongoing refinements to a drafted master plan, work that is required every five years in order for cities and towns to petition the state for funding projects.

The section covering "Environmental Problems" was up for the night's discussion and modifications. When the group came to the paragraphs outlining the impact of development on open space the following sentence generated several comments: "While many communities require construction setbacks to wetlands through a local Wetlands Protection bylaw, Mattapoissett does not."

Hathaway opened with his well-honed statement, one that he has been stating and restating for the past 48 years. He went on to say, "I can't do this anymore ... someone else is going to have to do this." He said that several years ago the Conservation Commission, chaired at that time by R. Tyler Macallister, drafted a set of wetland protection bylaws. Those were to have been brought to Town Meeting for public vote. For undetermined reasons, those bylaws have not been presented at Town Meeting to date. Hathaway conceded that that document was not perfect and left room for future modifications. However, he said that at least having a set of bylaws, ones that could have been used as a working document would have been better than nothing.

Barry Denham spoke up, saying that the Conservation Commission works hard to protect wetlands but that oftentimes the applicant goes to the DEP and receives the green light for their project. Conservation Agent Elizabeth Leidhold noted that if there were wetland protection bylaws then the DEP would have not jurisdiction, in their absence a DEP ruling holds.

Earlier in the evening, Leidhold noted that the master plan brought together a number of agencies, committees, and commissions in town such as shell fish warden, herring superintendent, harbor master, Planning, Conservation, tree warden, Board of Health, Marine Advisory, and others. With that in mind, the assistance needed to craft and complete the master plan draws on a wide pool of expertise.

In attendance were Highway Supervisor Barry Denham, Harbormaster Jill Simmons, Water and Sewer Supervisor Nick Nicholson, Conservation Agent Elizabeth Leidhold, Community Preservation Committee Chairman John DeCosta, as well as Bonnie Desousa and Brad Hathaway.

Over the course of the coming months, the committee will continue their work on perfecting the language in the master plan, hoping to be finished by spring.

In the meantime, Hathaway is hoping that someone will pick up the ball and run with it so that in the coming years Mattapoissett will have wetland protection bylaws that will provide clear guidelines for safety for these sensitive areas.

ORR Update

By Renae Reints

The seniors of Old Rochester Regional High School held a bake sale last Wednesday, raising $430 for their class. Senior students volunteered to bring in baked goods and sold them to their peers throughout the early-dismissal school day.

"It went really well. We had an amazing turnout," said Amanda Carreiro, the senior class treasurer. "We had three tables filled with baked goods, which is awesome."

The money raised from the bake sale will go toward the senior prom and the end-of-year senior gift. "As a class, we take some of the money out of our account and we leave a gift for the school," said Carreiro, thinking ahead. "We want to give a really good gift this year."

Along with the bake sale, the senior class also raised money through their Yankee Candle sales, which closed last Monday. The senior students sold Yankee Candle products to their friends and family through a catalog, which was also available online.

Excluding online sales, the seniors collected upward of $6,600 from the Yankee Candle fundraising. Although only 30 to 40 percent of the funds will go toward the class, this is still a profit of at least $1,980.

These are great successes, but there is more fundraising to come. "We are going to be splitting some of the fundraisers with the juniors, like the talent show and Mr. ORR," Carreiro said. These events will be organized later in the school year.

As well as the various class governments, clubs at ORR have been busy with their own fundraising. AFS club held their car wash last Saturday at the Mattapoisett Fire Department. There was a successful turnout, with plenty of energetic student volunteers and cars to clean. The AFS car wash raised over $500.

Among all of this fundraising, CSL (Community Service Learning) club is holding a non-profit collection. In lieu of the Halloween spirit, CSL has placed Halloween costume donation boxes at all the schools in the Old Rochester district.

CSL is collecting costumes from October 7-17. All appropriate costumes for infants to age 12 will be accepted. With the help of school counselors, the costumes will be distributed to students of our own school district who are in need. All extra costumes will go to the New Bedford charity organization Gifts to Give.

With all these fundraising events and charity collections, the students off ORR are busy supporting the causes close to their hearts.

Football's Phillips Makes Big Impact

ORR Sports Update

By Michael Kassabian

It looked as if, for a moment, that Richie Phillips would not be allowed to play football in his senior year of high school.

Phillips, who transferred from Wareham High School last year, repeated his junior year when he switched schools. This made the 2013 football season his 5th year of high school football, which the Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic Association does not permit unless a waiver is applied for. After being denied ineligible twice by the MIAA, Phillips was finally cleared two weeks ago and was given the thumbs up to start playing in contested games for the Bulldogs. After a modest one-touchdown opener against Bourne last week, Phillips showed his true value against GNB Voc-Tech, where he carried the Bulldogs to a 35-12 win.

Phillips rushed for 146 yards and four of the team's five touchdowns. His most impressive play was in the second quarter, where he recovered a Voc-Tech fumble at ORR's own two-yard line. After scooping up the loose ball, he sprinted down the field for a 98-yard touchdown return. Then, after Old Rochester recovered another fumble on the next kickoff, Phillips would score again, this time on a 33-yard rush. Senior Hayden Bergeron scored the other remaining touchdown off of a 12-yard pass from his brother Nolan Bergeron. The Bulldogs also had three interceptions on the night, two of which came from Raekwon Phillips. With the three interceptions, the Bulldogs defense forced a total 5 turnovers. This week, the boys have a bye, and will be preparing for a game on Friday, October 11, at Dighton Rehoboth High School.

The golf team had a pretty good week, winning two of their three matches. The first victory came against Wareham High School, where the boys, led by Jacob Durocher, won 148-92. Durocher shot a one-over-par 36, while juniors Kyle Sherman and Zach Peterson went two and three for the Bulldogs, shooting a 37 and 39, respectively. Later in the week, the boys had to face undefeated conference rival Apponequet High School, where they narrowly lost, 155-143. Peterson had the best score of the day for the Bulldogs with a 41, and senior Nic Suprenant pitched in with a 42, but it was not enough to give the Bulldogs the win. Later that week, they won their seventh match of the season against GNB Voc-Tech.

The girls' volleyball team continues to face struggles due to a lack of varsity experience. The girls lost all three of their games this week to opponents in Bourne, Case, and Seekonk. The girls have strong players in seniors Juliana Nicolosi and Curran Desjardins, junior Alexis Lincoln, and sophomore Maddie Lee, but have yet to win a game due to a lack of experience and a multitude of underclassmen.

The boys' soccer team has finally seemed to hit their stride, winning games against Seekonk, Bourne, and Case this week. Senior transfer Jack Smith was quick to score his first two varsity goals of his Old Rochester career this week, and seniors Robby Magee and Alden Truesdale are helping to lead a primarily young team to more wins.

Below are the overall team records, followed by the conference records in wins, ties, and losses as of September 29.

To the Editor:

Recently we attended two movies hosted by the Mattapoisett Lions Club at Shipyard Park, near the gazebo. The outdoor setting was perfect. We saw "Back to the Future" in August, and "The Karate Kid" in September. We enjoyed both movies ... and the complimentary popcorn and hot cocoa! It wasn't just fun for us kids; the Lions Club movies are a great way of bringing a community of all ages together. If you have never been to one of these free shows, you should definitely go. We look forward to future movies at the gazebo. Thanks, Lions Club!

News Submission Policy

The Wanderer gladly accepts any and all news and press release items from local non-profit organizations for publication on a weekly basis. The deadline for submission of news items is Monday at 12:00 noon for publication in that week's edition. Due to the increasing number of submissions, however, publication of press material is never guaranteed. The Wanderer will make every effort to publish timely news items and announcements as the subject warrants and as often as spacing allows. All press material must be submitted in writing via fax (508-758-4845), e-mail (news@wanderer.com) or mail (The Wanderer, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739), and must be typed or word-processed. We cannot accept any handwritten material or news items via telephone, no matter how brief.

Photographs of area events and newsmakers are also accepted and encouraged. The Wanderer accepts well-lit and clearly-defined color or black and white photographs for publication provided they include a brief summary of the event or subject. Due to processing and/or cropping requirements, we cannot return photographs. Please make sure you retain your negatives or have a copy made before submitting photographs for publication. Like news items, the deadline for photos is Monday at 12:00 noon and the publication of photographs is also subject to spacing constraints and therefore cannot be guaranteed.

Marion Fireworks Committee Members Needed

The Fireworks in 2013 were a great success thanks to the hard work of the Committee members and generous donations from the community!

It is now time to think ahead to next July and form the 2014 Marion Fireworks Fundraising Committee. In order for the fireworks to return, funds must be raised to cover all expenses.

Help is needed for mailings and other fundraising activities. Any and all ideas for raising the funds will be greatly appreciated.

If you are interested in joining the Marion Fireworks Fundraising Committee, please call 774- 217-8355 or email info@marionrecreation.com by October 30.

The first meeting will be held at the beginning of November.

MOVIE REVIEW

Cops & Robbers

By Rob Gonsalves

www.robsmovievault.com

Cold Blooded*. Starring Zoie Palmer and Ryan Robbins. Directed by Jason Lapeyre. Running time: 95 minutes. No MPAA rating. Available now on iTunes.

The aptly-titled Cold Blooded is the first feature film directed by Jason Lapeyre; he made it before co-directing the terrific I Declare War (which I reviewed in these pages two issues ago; both are newly available on iTunes). Both films are tightly wrought meditations on violence, though Cold Blooded fits much more comfortably into a genre file drawer — it's a crime thriller, handled with what Hemingway called clean hands and composure, appealingly minimalist and sharing some DNA with the early work of John Carpenter. (The end-title music strongly recalls Carpenter's Escape from New York theme, and the premise tips its hat to Halloween II and Assault on Precinct 13 while being worthier of the latter than Precinct 13's own remake was.) Judging from Lapeyre's two features thus far, I'd say we have yet another Canadian director to watch. Must be something in the water up there.

The movie kicks off with a Reservoir Dogs vibe: thieves escaping from a diamond heist. It goes badly, and one of the thieves, Eddie Cordero (Ryan Robbins), is badly beaten and taken into custody. After better than two days of unconsciousness, Eddie wakes up in the hospital to find himself guarded by no-nonsense cop Frances Jane (Zoie Palmer). Before long, we discover that Frances isn't so much guarding against Eddie's escape as guarding him against heist colleagues who now want to kill him. They're both up against cobra-like Louis Holland (William MacDonald), a top-flight sociopath who isn't above using surgical tools close to hand to obtain what he wants.

Cold-Blooded is almost what Michael Douglas described in his recent Emmy speech as a two-hander — much of the movie is a contest of wills between Eddie, who's not as violent or as psychotic as the crew he ran with, and Frances, who insists on following the law even when it would seem to do her the least good. The Carpenter feeling continues in the performances of Palmer (who resembles the young Edie Falco) and Robbins, who have a gratifying ice-and-fire rapport. Lapeyre doesn't forget about the other characters, though; we spend a bit of time with two separately terrified men — a doctor (Husein Madhavji) and the diamond-store clerk coerced into facilitating the heist (Sergio Di Zio) — who of course end up paired off, each nattering about protecting their families.

There's a bit of grisliness early on, unrevealed by me, that's a gift that keeps on giving — it raises the stakes, puts a ticking clock on the proceedings, and provides several queasily absurdist moments. (Admirably played straight by one and all.) It also signals that all bets are off, since we don't expect to see such a game-changing event so soon in a narrative. It informs everything that follows, and, though bloody, it isn't leered at or even shown in much detail. Jason Lapeyre used to write for the excellent Canadian horror magazine Rue Morgue, but he isn't a gorehound; covering movies that treated violence as a meaningless game and movies in which violence actually meant something may have shown him which way to go. Cold Blooded may depict cold-bloodedness, but its own blood is warm and vital, without succumbing to unearned sentimentality or emotion (Eddie and Frances don't become best friends or something).

The filmmaking is remarkably clear-eyed and economical. The first images, almost still photos, suggest snapshots of what happened and why it went wrong. Every edit and line of dialogue have a purpose: not for nothing do I compare Cold Blooded to early Carpenter, who never let plot get in the way of the story. We like Frances and even sleazy Eddie, they get put in a bad situation, and we watch them trying to think their way out of it. You could probably count the number of gunshots on the fingers of one hand, have enough fingers to count the number of clichés, and still have a pinky left over. Lapeyre's one concession to visuals over logic is the heroine's iconically bloody face, which maybe could've been wiped clean sooner, but nobody's thinking much about skin care under the circumstances, and it fits in with Lapeyre's concerns running through both I Declare War and Cold Blooded: blood is sticky and messy, and having it there on the heroine's cheek is a constant reminder.

Obituaries:

Richard A. Porter, Jr., 72, of New Bedford died Tuesday September 24, 2013 suddenly at Charlton Memorial Hospital. He was the husband of Anne E. (Curry) Porter.

Born in New Bedford, the son of the late Richard A. and Alice M. (O'Brien) Porter, he lived in New Bedford all of his life. He had summered in his favorite place, Point Connett, Mattapoisett for many years.

Mr. Porter began his long career as a social worker for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1968 with the Office for Children. He later moved into administration with the Department of Transitional Assistance where he was still currently working in the New Bedford office. He had great passion for his work and was an advocate for the poor and disenfranchised.

He was a graduate of Holy Family High School and Boston College. He served in the U.S. Army in Germany during the Vietnam War.

Affectionately known as "Papa", his grandchildren brought him great joy. He loved to go out and dine in area restaurants.

Survivors include his wife; three children, Richard A. Porter III and his spouse George P. Bolger, Kristin M. Arruda and her spouse Victor J. Arruda, and Meghan C. Robitaille and her spouse Matthew T. Robitaille, all of New Bedford; two sisters, Ann L. Touhey and Rosemary P. Lucas, both of New Bedford; four grandchildren, Elizabeth A. Arruda, Alexander P. Arruda, Ellen S. Robitaille and Noah P. Robitaille; and several nieces and nephews.

His Funeral Mass was celebrated on Saturday at St. Lawrence Church. Burial followed in St. Mary's Cemetery. Visiting hours were held on Friday at the Saunders-Dwyer Home for Funerals, 495 Park St., New Bedford. For directions and guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com

William D. Cudworth, 82, of Marion formerly of Wareham and Acushnet passed away Thursday Sept. 26 at the Sippican Health Care Center.

He was the husband of the late Ann E. Harju who passed away in 1964. William attended Wareham Public Schools and Wareham High School. A Korean War veteran William served in the U.S. Army.

He worked for many years as an Advertising Composer for the New Bedford Standard Times and the Wareham Courier retiring in 1994.

He is survived by his cousin Leonaud G. Boutin and his wife Paula of Wareham and longtime friend Sallee Serpa of Marion. He is also survived by many loving friend and relatives and especially the loving and caring staff of the Sippican Healthcare Center.

A Graveside service was held on Monday Sept. 30 in Centre Cemetery Tihonet Rd. Wareham. Visiting with the family was held at the Wareham Village Funeral Home 5 Center Street Wareham, prior to the graveside service.

Memorial gifts may be made to the National Marine Life Center 120 Main Street Buzzards Bay, MA 02532 or Fidelis Hospice 275 Martine Street Fall River, MA 02723. Online guestbook please visit warehamvillagefuneralhome.com Arrangements by Wareham Village Funeral Home.

Barbara F. (Holdsworth) Keith, 93, of Fairhaven died September 28, 2013 at Emeritus of Dartmouth.

She was the wife of the late George A. Bassett, Jr. and Wendell T. Keith.

Born in Framingham, the daughter of the late George A. and Gladys M. (Richardson) Holdsworth, she lived in Fairhaven most of her life.

Mrs. Keith was formerly employed as a nurse with the Fairhaven School Department for 17 years until her retirement.

She served in the U.S. Army during World War II stationed in Harrogate, England.

Survivors include 2 daughters, Margaret E. Rose, and her husband Kenneth, of Canton, CT and Barbara A. Gaspar, and her husband Gary, of Mattapoisett; a step-daughter, Suzanne K. Dixon of Rochester; 5 grandchildren, Kenneth, Daniel, Nicholas, Amy and Karen; 7 great-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

She was the sister of the late Harold Holdsworth and George A. Holdsworth.

Her Funeral Service will be held on Tuesday at 12 Noon in the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett. Her family will receive guests from 11:30 AM - 12 Noon prior to her service. In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to Community Nurse and Hospice Care, P.O. Box 751, Fairhaven, MA 02719. For directions and guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

Michael A. Adler, 52, of Mattapoisett passed away on Wednesday September 25, 2013. He was the loving husband of Carol (Loughlin) Adler.

Born in Peabody, he was the son of Irma (Fox) Adler and the late Norman E. Adler.

Michael was a salesman all of his life. He was passionate about his career in sales. Along with his wife Carol, he owned and operated the Vacations Plus Travel Agency in Fairhaven for many years.

Local Freemasons Welcome Public

Joining with Masonic lodges across the Commonwealth, Freemasons meeting in the Marion, Pythagorean Lodge building, 13 Spring St., will open their doors to the public on Saturday, October 19, between 9:00 am and 3:00 pm, as part of the Square and Compasses Day, a statewide celebration of Freemasonry. If you've ever wondered who the Freemasons are, whether they are the descendants of the Knights Templars, or what the inside of their buildings look like, here's your chance to find out!

More than 230 lodges will be hosting Open Houses to help the public gain a better understanding of what Freemasonry is, the positive impact that it has on its members, their families, and their communities. Members will provide tours of their building, talk about Freemasonry's history, discuss its rituals, signs, and symbols, and explain what they do.

Freemasonry, the world's oldest and largest fraternity, seeks to bring together men of every country, religion, race, background, and opinion in order to develop the bonds of friendship between them. Through a large variety of North American Masonic philanthropies, approximately $3,000,000 is given to charity every day, 70% of which benefits the general public. During its initiation ceremony, which uses symbolism and allegory, its members are encouraged to value high principles, ethics, and morals and to live their lives accordingly.

Mattapoisett Land Trust Autumn Trail Walk

For the past several years, the Land Trust has worked to improve the trail system in the Old Aucoot area of Mattapoisett. The MLT would like to invite the public to explore the trail network through a guided walk on Saturday, October 12, from 2:00 to 4:00 pm. The walk will begin at the Friends Meeting House on Marion Road (Route 6), proceed through the Brownell and Martocci Preserves, over the Buckley bridge to Grace Pond and then south to Old Slough Road and Angelica Avenue. Transportation will be provided back to the Meeting House for those not wishing to walk back. Refreshments will also be provided.

All interested walkers should meet at the Friends Meeting House at 2:00 pm. Although this is a relatively dry time of year, the MLT suggests that walkers dress appropriately for a walk in a wooded wetland: long sleeves and long pants with waterproof shoes are recommended. For more information call 508-758-7849, or email info@mattlandtrust.org.

TriTOWN HAPPENINGS

Marion resident Peter Hunsdorfer rode his motorcycle cross-country in July.. Photos by Joan Hartnett-Barry.

Marion resident Sam Dunham '10 (top left), a junior majoring in government and economics at the College of William & Mary, has been selected as one of six research fellows in the Project on International Peace and Security (PIPS), an undergraduate think tank focused on producing original and rigorous foreign policy analysis and bridging the gap between undergraduate academic and foreign policy communities.

PIPS research fellows investigate and write papers on topics suggested by members of the foreign policy community. These papers form the bases of honors theses, independent study projects, or publishable articles. In addition, PIPS fellows present their work to policy officials and scholars at a year-end conference in Washington, D.C. (in past years at the Brookings Institution, the Carnegie Endowment for Peace, and the National Press Club). They also receive assistance with publishing their papers in policy or academic journals, presenting their papers at academic conferences, and attaining policy internships. Visit www.wm.edu/pips or Google "Facebook PIPS Project."

After graduating from Falmouth Academy in 2010, Dunham worked for six months as an AFS volunteer in Cairo, Egypt, before returning to enter the College of William & Mary in the fall of 2011 as a member of its Monroe Scholars program.

The Women's Center Is Turning 40

The Women's Center (TWC) was established in 1973 as a Women's Health Clinic. The Center has evolved over the past 40 years to meet the changing needs of the community. Today, TWC serves more than 4,000 women, children, men, youth, families, and non-offending caregivers each year in 14 Southcoast communities. Programs include Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault, Child & Adolescent Trauma, including two emergency domestic violence shelters, a specialized shelter for women, transitional housing programs and a 24 hour hotline, and Education and Community Outreach.

To commemorate this milestone, TWC is holding a 40th Anniversary Gala on Thursday evening, October 17, starting at 6:00 pm at the Hawthorne Country Club, North Dartmouth. The Gala will include dinner, dancing, silent auction, entertainment by Umoja and historical displays. Tickets are $40 per person and are available online at www.thewomenscenteresc.com or by calling Annie at The Women's Center at 508-996-3343 x38.

The 40th Anniversary Gala will be a memorable evening celebrating the work of hundreds of volunteers, staff and community partners throughout the years who helped create The Women's Center that we have today. We would like to reach out to anyone who was connected with TWC over the past 40 years, invite them to the Gala and ask them to contact TWC so that we can add them to our mailing or email list. If you'd like to attend but cannot

Property Tax Work-Off Program

Applications for the Senior Citizen Property Tax Work-Off Program are now available.

This program allows Mattapoisett seniors, older than 60, to perform services for the town in exchange for a maximum $750 reduction on the taxes for Mattapoisett property that they own and occupy.

The Council on Aging will hold an informational session for this new program on Thursday, October 10, at 2 pm. This session, at the Council on Aging, 17 Barstow St., is open to all Mattapoisett seniors.

Applications are available online at the city's website, mattapoisett-ma.gov, under the "COA" section. Hard copy applications may also be picked up in person at the Council on Aging and the Town Clerk's Office at Town Hall. The application will contain a summary of the eligibility requirements for program participation and will be accompanied by an information package. All applications must be turned in to the Council on Aging office by 3:00 pm on Friday, October 18. Anyone with questions may call Jacqueline Coucci, Council on Aging Director, at 508-758-4110.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might need to get more facts to help you work out those problems with your new project. As always, a friendly approach shows the charming Arian at his or her persuasive best.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Information is what energizes ambition, and this is a good time for the ambitious Bovine to expand his or her range of knowledge and to be ready for the challenges that lie ahead.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) This is a good time to consider making some long-overdue decorating changes at home or in your workplace. A splash of color can help raise spirits, even on the grayest day.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Learn more. Earn more. That's the formula for Moon Children looking to expand their career horizons. Investigate the best places to get those training courses you'll need.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your creative side helps gain attention for many of your ideas. But don't neglect the practical aspects involved in implementing their move from paper to production. Good luck.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A health problem should not be ignored. The sooner you check it out, the sooner you can deal with it and then move on. Some job advice comes from an unlikely source.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A relationship takes an unexpected shift that could leave you puzzled and hurt. Asking for an explanation could help uncover the reason for this sudden turn of events.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your busy schedule has drawn down much of your energy levels. Restore them by spending a well-earned time out enjoying the arts -- perhaps with that special someone.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Make that presentation with confidence. Remember: When you show you believe in yourself, it helps persuade others that you truly know what you're doing.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Although you usually prefer doing things on your own, a group effort might be advisable at this time. Try to keep an open mind about suggestions from colleagues.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This could be a good time to reassess some of your recent decisions and see if any adjustments should be made based on facts that you might have just uncovered.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) An emotionally charged situation creates uncertainty about the future of your relationship. Best advice: Talk things out while there's still time to reach a new understanding.

BORN THIS WEEK: You tend to act on matters of principle despite what others might advise.

have their work cut out for them on Sunday, as they met the undefeated Pee Wee team from Milton. Gateway got some early good fortune as the Milton team scored first ... in their own net! Ben DeMoranville would score unassisted later in the first period. The Warriors found themselves up 3-0 early in the second period as Dan Flynn scored a goal, assisted by both Jake DeMoranville and Jackson St. Don. However, the Warriors seemed to deviate from the game plan and Milton took advantage, scoring the next two goals. It wasn't until late in the third period that the Warriors found some comfort, coming on the heels of Ben DeMoranville's second goal of the game. Defensive play continues to be a key element to the Warriors success. Robert Ramsay, Jared Westgate, Jameson Woodward, and Jackson St. Don each played impressive two-way hockey. While Alex DeMarco was outstanding in net during his portion of the game, holding Milton scoreless. DeMarco has yet to be scored upon as a Warrior!

Middle School: Matt Maloney found the net early in the game, assisted by Vittorio Consoletti and Coleby Paling. Soon after, Maloney returned the favor, assisting Consoletti and bringing the score to 2-0 Vikings. With just 30 seconds left in the first period, Norton managed to slip the puck past goalie Steven Strachan. Norton came out firing in the second period, scoring three goals. Maloney managed a second goal, but it was quickly answered by Norton. The second period ended with Norton ahead 5-3. Wareham worked to stem the tide in the third period, with a breakaway goal by Consoletti. Makayla Wood scored her first middle school goal, assisted by Lovendale and Vyper LaTulippe, to tie up the game. But a breakaway goal got by goalie Teaghin Andre finally put Norton in the lead, with a final score of 6-5.

Friends of the Marion COA Annual Meeting

The Friends of the Marion Council on Aging will be hosting their first Annual Meeting Wednesday, October 9, at 5:00 PM. The meeting will be held at the Marion Music Hall, on 164 Front St. in Marion, Ma.

The meeting will be open to the public and will be an opportunity for current members and those interested in joining to hear about the Friends organization, and become part of an energetic and focused movement that works in conjunction with the town of Marion's Council on Aging.

Meeting agenda highlights include (but are not limited to) a recap of the yearlong activities of the 5 committees of the FMCOA, as well as a presentation of the Fairhaven community center by Anne Silvia, the director of the Fairhaven Council on Aging. The meeting will last approximately one hour; light refreshments will be provided.

"This meeting will be the first annual gathering of the Friends of Marion Council on Aging. We hope to set the tone for the coming year by reviewing our recent accomplishments and sharing our goals and dreams for the future. In addition to helping support the current services of the COA, we hope to initiate a renewed interest in the establishment of a town senior/community

Buzzards Bay Coalition Events

Pick Your Own Cranberries and discover the Mattapoissett River Reserve during a Bay Adventure on Saturday, October 12, at 9:00 am. Nothing says fall in the Buzzards Bay watershed quite like the annual cranberry harvest. Come pick your own fresh, local cranberries at the Coalition's Mattapoissett River Reserve on Acushnet Road, where 50 acres of wild cranberries grow in retired bogs. Coalition staff will talk about the history and ecological importance of the property, which has been protected forever to preserve its natural features. Cost: Free, with pre-registration requested. For more information and to RSVP, contact Alicia Pimental at Pimental@savebuzzardsbay.org or 508-999-6363 ext. 224.

Learn how to quahog during a free, family-friendly event on Monday, October 14, 10:30 am in Wareham. Learn how to harvest your own quahogs with the Buzzards Bay Coalition during a free event. Coalition educators and representatives from the town of Wareham will teach participants the basics of local quahogging – what you need, how to do it, and where to go. This will be a fun and educational event for the whole family. Equipment, including waders and rakes, will be available. The event will take place at Sunset Cove, along West

Café Parlez' selection for October is Crooked Letter, Crooked Letter by Tom Franklin. In the late 1970s, Larry Ott took his girlfriend to the movies. She was never seen again, and Ott was the primary suspect. His friendship with Silas Jones, only child of a single African-American mother, was broken, and he became a recluse. More than 20 years later, another girl is missing, and Larry is again the main suspect. Silas as the police chief is called

Rochester Senior Center Nabs National Accreditation

The Rochester Senior Center has achieved full national senior center accreditation status through the National Council on Aging's National Institute of Senior Centers National Senior Center Accreditation process!

The Rochester Council on Aging, with the assistance of 73 community individuals, has been working for the past year or more on the self-assessment part of the application toward full accreditation. The 73 individuals served on nine different committees, representative of the nine operational senior center standards: Purpose & Planning, Community Connections, Governance, Administration & Human Resources, Fiscal & Asset Responsibility, Records & Reports, Evaluation, Program Planning & Implementation, and Facility & Operations. Each committee met numerous times throughout the year and worked on various components that were required as part of their "standard" for the accreditation process. A five-inch portfolio/notebook was created, which contained various documents and examples required to be submitted to be considered for senior center accreditation. The completed notebook was submitted to the National Accreditation Office in Washington, D.C., at the end of August.

Once the notebook had been reviewed by the office and two assigned peer reviewers to ensure that all of the components were included, an on-site peer review was scheduled.

The on-site peer review occurred on September 24. Each reviewer has been trained and certified in the process, and is a director of a senior center which has also achieved successful full accreditation status.

During the on-site visit on September 24, the reviewer met with several of those who worked on the self-assessment process, as well as staff members, program participants, volunteers, and town officials. She observed various programs in action, toured the senior center and looked through documents and other records, also looking for required posted certificates, licenses, and general overall cleanliness, accessibility, order, and usability. The reviewer also enjoyed a brief tour of the town in order to capture the essence of Rochester.

At the end of the day, the on-site reviewer wrote a detailed report, which encapsulated all details of her visit and those details were put into a standard format reflecting the nine standards, used by all peer reviewers. The 10-page report was then submitted to the National Senior Center Accreditation Board (comprised of nine individuals from across the country), which met last Friday, September 27, via conference call. The Accreditation Board voted unanimously to award full senior center accreditation status to the Rochester Senior Center! This accreditation status is good for five years, at which time the process will begin anew!

National Senior Center Accreditation is voluntary, and can be likened to the "Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval." The process ensures that the Senior Center is meeting the needs and interests of the older adults in the community it serves, and is operating at the highest level of operation possible, also ensuring the well-being and safety of its participants. A celebration is currently being planned in light of this crowning achievement!

Sippican Woman's Club Meeting

On Friday, October 11, at 12:30 pm, the Sippican Woman's Club will welcome a return visit by Seth Mendell, local historian and Mattapoissett resident, who will trace the colorful history of the largest of the Elizabethan Islands Naushon – including the pirates of Tarpaulin Cove, the American Revolution and the arrival of John Murray Forbes. In a previous program, Mendell traced Cuttyhunk's history dating back to mariner

A POWERFUL PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer, to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory, thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.
The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. L.N.

Our meeting will be held at Handy's Tavern, 152 Front St., Marion, and begins at 12:30 pm. The program is preceded by a finger-food luncheon, tea/coffee and a sweet, followed by a short business meeting. Guests are welcome, and membership is open to any resident of Marion or whose interests are in Marion. For membership information, contact Jeanne Lake 508-748-0619 or check our website www.sippicanwomansclub.org.

ORCTV Wants Your Scary Stories

Have you ever had an experience with the paranormal? Maybe you know an old ghost story or campfire tale that has been handed down to you from generation to generation. Old Rochester Community TV would like to give Tri-Town residents the opportunity to share your scariest ghost tales over our airwaves during the Halloween season. ORCTV invites you to schedule a time to come down to our studios, located at 345 Front St., Marion, from Tuesday, October 15, through Thursday, October 18, between the hours of 10:00 am and 5:30 pm. We will give participants a half-hour time slot to record a ghost story of up to 10 minutes in length (in much the same way we have recorded holiday greetings during Christmas season in the past). Once all of the stories have been gathered, ORCTV will broadcast the collection as a Halloween special to be run in the weeks just before and after the holiday. To schedule your time, please call the station at 508-748-1600. We look forward to being scared and spooked, Tri-Town! If you are not able to record a story during the hours listed, we will try to arrange an appointment at a time that is more convenient where possible.

We beat ALL estimates. Don't over pay.

Mattapoisett Library Scarecrow Contest

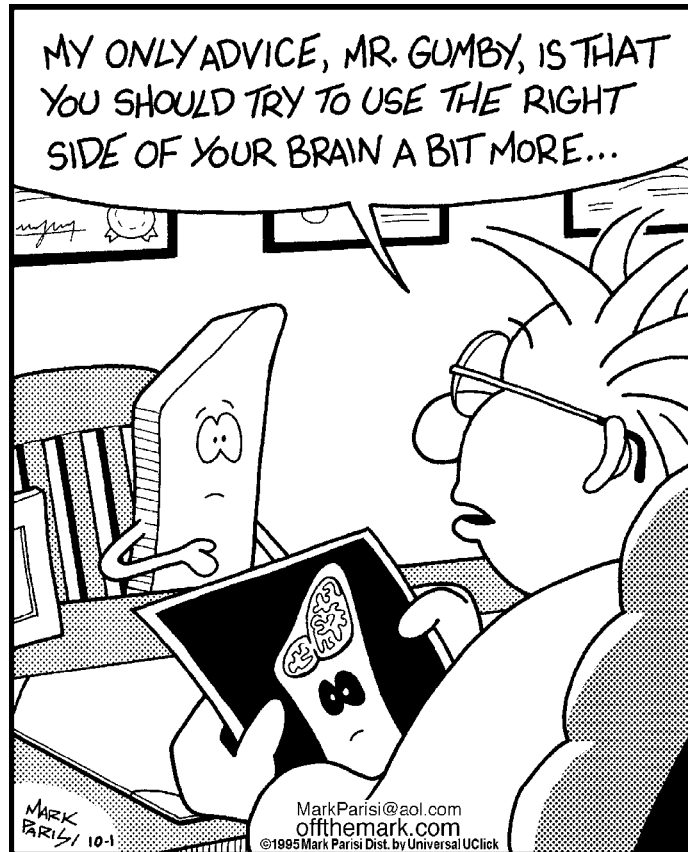

Brush the cobwebs off of your creativity and create a seasonal sensation for the Scarecrow Contest on Saturday, October 26, at 1:00 pm on the lawn at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library. Rain date is Sunday, October 27. Prizes will be awarded in the following categories: Best Classic Scarecrow, Funniest Scarecrow, Best Dressed Scarecrow, Scariest Scarecrow, and Most Original Scarecrow. Everyone is encouraged to enter. Contest entry forms along with instructions on how to build a scarecrow can be found at the Mattapoisett Library, and you can register by telephone at 508-758-4171. Be sure that all scarecrows are constructed at home and brought to the registration table upon arrival for placement. All children can participate in the many craft activities that will be available during judging. Delicious cupcakes, cookies, candied apples, popcorn, cider, and hot cocoa will be for sale. Questions can be directed to Jessica Noblet at 508-758-4819 or jessicanoblet@gmail.com.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the September 26, 2013 issue the Aardvark was on page 50!
